

Write WINNING NIH Grant Proposals

A Workshop by David Morrison, Ph.D.

Wednesday, October 30, 2013

8:30 am – 5:00 pm

Dow Auditorium, Towsley Center

This widely acclaimed seminar addresses practical and conceptual aspects of the proposal writing process (with emphasis on NIH applications). Participants will learn to prepare a competitive grant proposal by:

- incorporating knowledge of the peer review process in a persuasive research description
- formulating a focused research plan that incorporates well-formulated hypotheses, rationales, specific objectives, and long-range research goals
- developing and justifying a budget for the proposed research activities
- using existing resources at the University of Michigan in research proposal development
- avoiding many common grant writing mistakes.

Follow this event on Twitter with hashtag #MICHRRWWG13. Tweet your questions to us before or during the event.

CME CREDIT AVAILABLE

The University of Michigan Medical School is accredited by the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education (ACCME) to provide continuing medical education for physicians. The University of Michigan Medical School designates this live activity for a maximum of 7.0 AMA PRA Category 1 Credit(s)[™]. Physicians should claim only the credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity.

REGISTRATION

Deadline: October 11, 2013

Since course materials must be pre-ordered, we are unable to accept late / walk-in registrations.

Fee: $125 for UM participants (payable by shortcode or credit card)
$150 for Non-UM participants

All those registered as of October 12 will receive The Grant Application Writer's Workbook – National Institutes of Health Version (a $75.00 value) as well as other course materials.

Register and view complete information (including the agenda) at:
writewinningnihgrants2013.eventbrite.com

A unique opportunity regardless of your experience!

Open to everyone interested in developing their NIH
grant writing skills.

David Morrison, Ph.D., has been continuously funded as a principal investigator for more than 30 years from NIH, foundations, and industry. He has served as a member of multiple national review panels and advisory groups. He received the first ever Faculty Service Award from the Mayo Center for Translational Sciences Activities. Dr. Morrison is one of the most sought after presenters of workshops on writing NIH grant proposals.

OFFICE OF RESEARCH

UNIVERSITY OF MICHIGAN
MEDICAL SCHOOL

M | ICHR

Michigan Institute for Clinical & Health Research