

FINANCIAL AID

The University of Michigan Medical School Financial Aid Office is here to help you navigate the best options for funding your education. Let's start with a few basics:

What is Financial Aid?

Financial aid is scholarships, grants and loans that assist students in meeting their college expenses.

Two common classifications of student financial aid are:

1. GIFT ASSISTANCE

Scholarships and grants that do not have to be repaid. We award Admissions scholarships through alumni gifts to help students decrease their overall educational debt. Every admitted student is considered for an Admissions scholarship; no application is needed.

2. SELF-HELP

Loans, which must be repaid, though in most cases not until the student has finished medical school.
