

Peace Corps Volunteer and Former Kellogg Photographer Alexis Cullen Organizes Eye Care In Vanuatu, South Pacific

Where is the Republic of Vanuatu?

Lolowai Provincial Hospital in Vanuatu.

House building in Vanuatu: thatch roof and bamboo walls.

This 20 year old has a corneal scar from being poked with bamboo.

8 year old girl with bacterial conjunctivitis, a common condition in Vanuatu that is highly contagious.

Alexis Cullen attends to a patient with conjunctivitis and educates mother about hand-washing techniques.

Alexis Cullen with village children in Vanuatu.