A popular tourist destination, Lower Northern Michigan is home to several small to medium-sized cities, extensive state and national forests, lakes and rivers, and a large portion of Great Lakes shoreline. The region has a significant seasonal population much like other regions that depend on tourism as their main industry. In the northernmost 21 counties in the Lower Peninsula of Michigan, the total population of the region is 506,658 people.
Boating, golf, and camping are leading summer activities but sailing, kayaking, canoeing, birding, bicycling, horseback riding, motorcycling, and 'off-roading' are prevalent too. Fall activities include harvest festivals, seasonal beer and wine events, and fall color tours. Deer hunting is huge too.

In winter, a variety of sports including Snowmobiling is popular, and with hundreds of miles of interconnected groomed trails cross the region. Ice fishing is also popular plus cross country skiing, and snowshoeing trails as well as downhill and Nordic skiing.

If you desire to work/live/play in gorgeous Michigan then we invite you to apply!
