The Memorial Hermann Cancer Center-Texas Medical Center is home to a dynamic and comprehensive team able to address the full continuum of patients’ needs for all diagnoses and stages of cancer. Working in close collaboration with The University of Texas Health Science Center at Houston (UTHealth) Medical School and The Brown Foundation Institute of Molecular Medicine for the Prevention of Human Diseases at UTHealth, the physicians and researchers affiliated with the Memorial Hermann Cancer Center-TMC are providing innovative, therapeutic strategies focused on eradicating cancer, preserving organ function and maintaining the quality of life for cancer patients. Our program is credentialed by the American College of Surgeons Commission on Cancer and encompasses an academic, research-based approach geared to personalized adaptive medicine, designed to help patients achieve better outcomes.

The TMC is home to 21 renowned hospitals, 13 support organizations, eight academic and research institutions, six nursing programs, three public health organizations, three medical schools, two universities, two pharmacy schools, and a dental school. The TMC sees approximately 7.2 million patient visits annually. Houston’s mix of international diversity and Southern charm help make the nation’s fourth largest city a fun and family-friendly place to live. More than 145 languages are spoken in Houston, the third largest number of languages spoken in a U.S. city behind only New York and Los Angeles.
