COURSE OBJECTIVES

The goal of this course is for the following objectives to be understood and utilized within your practice:

- Psychiatric disorders and their specific implications in kidney transplant and improve confidence in diagnosing, treating and referring psychiatric disorders
- Surgical considerations for transplant candidacy, surgical options for patients with complex anatomy and the perioperative and postoperative management of kidney transplant patients

- Follow recommendations found in the literature to meet the needs of low health literacy patients
- Principles incorporated into making decisions about who is a candidate for kidney transplantation
- How various medical conditions affect candidacy for transplantation
- Rationale for cardiac assessment and testing as part of the kidney transplant evaluation
- What types of cardiac issues affect candidacy for kidney transplantation and how cardiovascular conditions can be managed to mitigate perioperative risk

- Explain Gift of Life Michigan’s focus for 2017 and beyond
- Identify biggest challenges facing OPOs in the United States in the current healthcare environment
- Selection criteria for referral to kidney transplant, kidney/pancreas and pancreas alone evaluations
- Financial, social, medical, and surgical factors which could impact active listing and the importance of professional and patient communication
- Identify the logistical issues associated with Global Kidney Exchange
