Dr. Anne M. Suskind, MD, MS, FACS, FPMRS, where she serves as the Vice Chair of the department, the Associate Chair of Academic Affairs and Wellness, and the Chief of Neurourology and Female Pelvic Medicine and Reconstructive Surgery (FPMRS). She graduated with a BA in Anthropology from Haverford College (2001) before attending medical school at Albany Medical College (2006). She then completed her urology residency at the University of Connecticut in 2011 and went on to complete two fellowships (in FPMRS and Health Services Research) and a master's degree in Clinical Research Design and Statistical Analysis at the University of Michigan (2014).

Dr. Suskind's clinical interests lie in the treatment of complex lower urinary tract disorders, including neurogenic bladder, overactive bladder, and urinary incontinence. She is a thought leader at the intersection of urology and geriatrics, and her research focuses on the impact of frailty in older adults undergoing urologic surgery. She has received funding from the National Institutes of Health (NIH) in the form of R01, R03, K12, and T32 grants, in addition to funding from AHRQ and several society and foundation awards. Her research has been acknowledged by many prestigious awards, including the American Geriatrics Society (AGS) New Investigator Award (2016), the inaugural AGS Jeffrey H. Silverstein Memorial Award for Emerging Investigators in the Surgical and Related Medical Specialties that are Focused on the Care of Older Adults (2017), the Society of Urodynamics, Female Pelvic Medicine and Urogenital Reconstruction (SUFU) Paul Zimkind Award for emerging leaders in the field (2020), and the American Urological Association (AUA) Midcareer Award (2023). Dr. Suskind additionally serves as the Chair of the Ethics Committee for the International Continence Society (ICS), on the Executive Boards for SUFU and for the Society of Women in Urology (SWIU), as an Associate Editor for Neurourology and Urodynamics, as an Assistant Editor for the Journal of Urology, and on the Editorial Board for Urology Practice. Notably, Dr. Suskind is a passionate mentor and has worked extensively to develop mentorship programs both within UCSF and nationally through SWIU, with a particular emphasis on mentoring women and those who are underrepresented in urology. Ultimately, her mission is to recruit, support, sponsor, and promote the next generation of urologic leaders.
