

Distinguished University Professorship Lecture

by Dr. Gilbert S. Omenn, M.D., Ph.D.

Tuesday, March 28, 2017 at 4:00 PM

Proteins, Policy, and Paths Less Travel'd: My Career as a Physician Scientist

Gilbert S. Omenn will reflect on a career spent straddling the worlds of science, medicine and policy when he delivers a Distinguished University Professor lecture Tuesday. Omenn has appointments in the Medical School and School of Public Health, and was U-M's first executive vice president for medical affairs.

Gilbert S. Omenn, M.D., Ph.D.

Harold T. Shapiro Distinguished University Professor Director, Center for Computational Medicine and Bioinformatics
Professor of Computational Medicine & Bioinformatics
Professor of Molecular Medicine & Genetics
Professor of Human Genetics
Professor of Public Health, School of Public Health

Horace H. Rackham Amphitheatre, 4th Floor

Watch Live Video Stream (link is external)

A reception follows the lecture