

First Annual Fibrodysplasia Ossificans Progressiva (FOP) & Traumatic Heterotopic Ossification (HO) Symposium

Science + Families = A Cure

The 2018 symposium at Michigan Medicine brought together scientists, clinicians, and families from these two devastating and complex diseases to explore how they overlap.

They spoke to the challenges of living with FOP or traumatic HO and what they feel are the pressing needs, giving clinicians and scientists areas to focus their research efforts.

We were lucky to host scientists with a wide variety of backgrounds who gave talks that led to conversations that we believe will improve the care of our patients.
